HANS-PETER FELDMANN

Art Exhibition

27 November 2008 – 31 January 2009

Opening: Wednesday, 26 November 2008, 6 – 8 pm

Simon Lee Gallery is delighted to present its first solo exhibition of the German artist Hans-Peter Feldmann. His measured and witty method of assembling found objects and imagery from everyday life has extended artistic communication beyond the traditional practice. Since the 1970's he has played an influential role for many of his peers and has been a prominent figure for a younger generation.

Throughout his work Feldmann demonstrates a particular awareness and sensitivity to the notion of time. One such example is the Time Series, in which Feldmann takes 36 shots (a roll of film) in quick succession so as to comprehend the passage of time. The resulting series of black and white photos range from; traffic at a street corner, a woman cleaning her window, to a boat slowly floating down the river Rhine, all of which identify poetry in the mundane situations of everyday life.

He meddles with pre-existing imagery and materials from both high and low culture and achieves vivid outcomes through minimal intervention. Plaster busts copied from Antique models have their hair coloured in bright yellows and browns, while the flesh is painted in an almost medicinal pink. Portrait paintings found in flea markets are given a new lease of life as the artist transforms the sitters' eyes with a few brushstrokes, producing humorous cross-eyed portraits. By intervening in a kitsch manner with classical busts and traditional portraiture he challenges our aesthetic sensibilities. Feldmann's methodical and obsessive attitude to collecting comes into play when he assembles commonplace objects in three large museological vitrines. By elevating these objects he shifts the viewer's attitude to the details of modern life.

For the forthcoming Art Exhibition at Simon Lee Gallery, Feldmann has chosen to present a survey of work from the last three decades, which will comprise of sculptures, paintings, collages and photographs.

Hans-Peter Feldmann lives and works in Düsseldorf. He has had numerous solo exhibitions in Europe and abroad, most notably at the P.S.1 Contemporary Art Center in Long Island, the Landesgalerie Linz, the Arnolfini in Bristol and the Sprengel Museum in Hannover. The artist's work features in prominent private and public collections, such as that of the Photomuseum in Winterthur and the MACBA in Barcelona. Feldmann contributed to significant group shows around the world, beginning with his participation at Documenta 6 in 1977 and more recently in major museums, like the Stedelijk in Amsterdam and the MoMA in New York.
