

10 Hong Kong Art Exhibitions To See In February

From contemporary Chinese video art to vintage photographs of Patti Smith, there's something for everyone on show this month

6/9 Sarah Crowner: Paintings For The Stage

American artist Sarah Crowner is inspired by everything from 20th-century modernist architecture to Mexican ceramics to Scandinavian textiles, and this wide array of influences shows in her work, which spans paintings on canvas, ceramic tiles, textile-based art and more.

At Simon Lee Gallery this month, Crowner is unveiling a series of new stitched canvas paintings and a collaborative project with Pink Lam, a Hong Kong-based painter and set designer.

Sarah Crowner runs from February 15 to March 20 at Simon Lee Gallery, 304, 3/F Pedder Building, 12 Pedder Street, Central; +852 2801 6252; simonleegallery.com
